

Answers were given on a scale from 1-10 and we received 8 responses from computer science majors and minors as well as computer engineering.

How difficult is it for you to understand other programmers' code?

Average answer: 5.375

How difficult is it for you to work in a team of programmers?

Average answer: 3.625

Would a code analyzer that groups teams of programmers together with similar coding styles be helpful?

Average answer: 7.375

Would a code analyzer that could help you optimize your code and increase performance be useful to you?

Average answer: 8.375